All of God's creatures have a place in the choir (and in Christian education). Some sing low and some sing higher. Not everyone in your congregation is wired up to teach in a traditional classroom setting, but many would still love to serve in some way.

If you start making some noise now about the ideas below you could have everyone singing from the telephone wire (or wherever you meet) this fall.

If you would like to hear a great version of, "All of God's Creatures" Have a Place in the Choir", click the link below for a YouTube video performance.
